SUMMARY

BIOGRAPHY

Professor Vetter is a leading expert on intellectual property as applied to software, with emphasis on free and open source software (FOSS) licensing. His scholarship is at the intersection of software and the business of software with patent law, copyright law, and licensing law. After receiving his undergraduate degree in electrical engineering, he worked full-time for nine years as a manager in the software field, gaining expertise in enterprise software design, management, and marketing. During these years he obtained a master's degree in computer science, and an MBA, both through evening programs in Kansas City. He then obtained his JD from Northwestern University School of Law, attending from 1996 to 1999. After law school, he worked for two years at the law firm of Kilpatrick Stockton before clerking for the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. Since his clerkship completed in 2002, he has served as a law professor at the University of Houston Law Center and served during that entire time as a Co-Director of the Law Center's Institute for Intellectual Property and Information Law (IPIL). Since June 2017, he has served as Associate Dean for Academic Affairs for the Law Center.

Law Center Responsibilities as Associate Dean for Academic Affairs:

The Associate Dean works with the Dean, other senior leaders, faculty, and students of the Law Center, on issues dealing with curriculum, course scheduling, interdisciplinary programs, accreditation, academic advising, full-time faculty, adjunct faculty, the LL.M. program, and student rights and responsibilities. The Associate Dean is an ex officio member on all Law Center committees and coordinator of the faculty mentor program for first-year law students

The Associate Dean also assists the Dean in strategic planning with respect to the Law Center, serves as liaison among the faculty and staff, serves as liaison with the University and other government entities, and acts on behalf of the Law Center with respect to emergencies that may arise until the Dean is available to address them.

The Associate Dean also has the following direct reports from among the tenured and tenure-track faculty: the Assistant Dean for Faculty Development (Dave Fagundes); the Director of the O'Quinn Law Library (Amanda Watson); the Director of Metropolitan Programs (Meredith Duncan); and the Director of Outcomes and Assessments (Renee Knake).

Law Center Accomplishments as Associate Dean for Academic Affairs:

- Implemented the Law Center's transition from the ABA's requirement for professional skills courses to the replacement requirement for experiential learning courses of three types: simulation, clinical, and field placement
- With other members of the Law Center's senior leadership team, guided the Law Center's response, recovery and reopening after the impact of hurricane Harvey's historic flooding in Houston
- Working with two Law Center committees and the Dean, implemented the new University of Houston campus-wide policy concerning Non-Tenure-Track (NTT) Faculty)
