PROSPECTS FOR U.S. - MEXICO TRADE

WILL THE PROPOSED FREE TRADE AGREEMENTS IN THE PACIFIC (TPP) AND WITH EUROPE (TTIP) ENHANCE OR UNDERMINE THE NAFTA PARTNERSHIP?

APRIL 21, 2014 8:00 A.M.
8:00 A.M. – Breakfast
8:15 A.M. – Intro. to Gantz
9:30 A.M. – Program ends

RSVP by Tuesday, April 15
at law.uh.edu/mexicobriefing, or to Brisa Gossett at bgossett@uh.edu.
This event is open only to invited guests. Space is limited; please respond early.

Featured Speaker

PROFESSOR DAVID A. GANTZ
DIRECTOR, INTERNATIONAL TRADE & BUSINESS LAW PROGRAM
UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA COLLEGE OF LAW

The program will be held in the offices of Andrews Kurth LLP, which has generously underwritten this event:

Chase Tower
600 Travis, Suite 4200
Houston, TX 77002
See RSVP link for directions

David A. Gantz is the Samuel M. Fegtly Professor of Law and Director of the International Trade and Business Law Program at the University of Arizona, and a leading expert on international trade law. A prolific author, he has published extensively on regional trade agreements, and he has also served as a government-appointed arbitrator in important international trade disputes.

Professor Gantz will discuss the potential effects arising from the entry of Canada, Mexico and the United States into the trade and investment agreements currently being negotiated with our European and Pacific Rim allies. The Transpacific Partnership agreement (TPP) will effectively amend NAFTA in several respects, and the pro-posed Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership between the EU and the United States will further complicate trade relations with Canada and Mexico, our two most important trading partners.

For a more complete biography on Professor Gantz, and for more information on the program, please follow the RSVP link.

University of Houston is an EEO/AA institution.