2017 Citizenship & Equality Colloquium
Thursdays, 4:15pm to 5:30pm, Wolf Law Building Room 304

September 14, 2017
Linda Bosniak
Citizenship and Migration: How Borders Matter
Linda Bosniak is an immigration, citizenship, and nationalism scholar at Rutgers Law, and currently in residence at the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton.

September 21, 2017
Irene Bloemraad
Understanding Membership with Global Migration: (How) Does Citizenship Matter?
Irene Bloemraad is a Professor of Sociology and Director of the Interdisciplinary Immigration Workshop at the University of California Berkeley.

September 28, 2017
Michael Olivas
Undocumented Lawyers, DACA, and Occupational Licensing
Michael Olivas is William B. Bates Distinguished Chair in Law and Director of the Institute for Higher Education Law and Governance at the University of Houston Law Center.

October 5, 2017
Stella Burch Elias
Immigration Federalism and Refugee Resettlement
Stella Burch Elias founded the Advanced Immigration Law and Policy Project at Iowa Law where she teaches International Law and Immigration Law.

October 12, 2017
Daniel Kanstroom
Globalism, International Human Rights, and Deportation
Daniel Kanstroom is the Thomas F. Carney Distinguished Scholar and Director of International Human Rights and Post-Deportation Program at Boston College of Law.

October 26, 2017
Robin Lenhardt
Marriage as Black Citizenship?
Robin Lenhardt is Professor of Law and Faculty Director of the Center on Race, Law and Justice at Fordham Law.

November 2, 2017
Seema Sohi
Citizenship, Surveillance, and Racial Profiling
Seema Sohi examines anticolonial politics in South Asia and migrant workers in North America in the CU Boulder Ethnic Studies Department.

November 9, 2017
Sarah Krakoff
Citizenship, Borders, and Tribal Sovereignty
Sarah Krakoff is the Raphael J. Moses Professor of Law at CU Law and co-author of American Indian Law.
James Anaya is Dean of CU Law. He is an expert on the international rights of indigenous people and formerly UN Special Rapporteur on the Rights of Indigenous People.

November 16, 2017
Tom Wong
Comprehensive Immigration Reform, DREAM Act, DACA
Tom Wong is an assistant professor of political science and Director of the International Migration Studies Program at the University of California, San Diego.

About the Colloquium
Ming Hsu Chen is the inaugural Director of the CU Immigration Law and Policy Program that is sponsoring the Citizenship and Equality Colloquium.

All interested faculty and students are encouraged to attend the public lecture.

Contact for more information or to request papers:
Professor Ming Hsu Chen – CU Law School- ming.h.chen@colorado.edu