Course Description:

As a student in the Entrepreneurship and Community Development Clinic (“ECDC”), you will have the opportunity to provide legal services to entrepreneurs, small businesses, and nonprofit organizations in a real-world setting. Providing accurate and helpful legal advice requires attention to detail, good communication skills, an understanding of the client’s needs and concerns, and the ability to craft legal solutions that work in a business context. It also requires strong legal writing skills.

In this course, we will focus on developing these skills through clinic work and case round discussions. The skills you will gain will be applicable to your work as a student in the ECDC and in your future practice.

Additional information about the course is available in the Law Center’s online course listing at:

Class Sessions:

Students must attend a mandatory orientation prior to the start of classes. The dates and times of orientation will be posted at www.law.uh.edu/clinic/clinic-orientation.asp. Enrolled students will receive additional information about orientation by email.

All students will meet with the instructor face-to-face as a group once each week at an arranged time and location. Class sessions will be devoted largely to discussion of the cases students are handling, including ethical and other practice issues arising from those cases, and to skill development. Class session attendance is mandatory, and students must arrive on time. Students may not be absent from more than two class sessions during the semester. You are responsible for managing your absences from class sessions and ensuring that your total number of absences does not exceed the maximum allowed for the class. By attending class sessions, you are certifying that you are prepared for class. Being prepared for class includes being able to clearly articulate your clients' legal and business needs and how you propose to address them.

Remote Attendance:

Students have the option to attend up to two class sessions during the semester via Zoom videoconference. If you plan to attend class via Zoom, please let the instructor know at least two hours in advance of class by email. Attending remotely beyond the allowed quota will count as absences even if allowed by the instructor.

Access to a webcam is required for students participating remotely in this course. If students attend class sessions via synchronous internet videoconferencing, students are expected to use etiquette appropriate for a video conference in a professional environment: (1) join on time and stay connected for the full class session, (2) keep your camera on, (3) stay on mute unless you are speaking to the class, (4) participate in class actively (pay attention, ask questions, answer questions), (5) reserve the chat feature for technical issues, and (6) because we discuss confidential client information during class sessions, you must ensure that no one else can hear the videoconference audio. You should use headphones if you are in a location where others could overhear. If you need to depart from these guidelines, please let the instructor know in advance of class.

Course Work:

The University of Houston Law Center Entrepreneurship and Community Development Clinic Law Student Manual (the "ECDC Manual") details the clinic's policies and procedures. Students will receive the ECDC Manual prior to orientation. You must read the ECDC Manual in its entirety before orientation and comply with all clinic policies and procedures in connection with your clinic work.

Client meetings and student meetings with the instructor can be scheduled by students using Calendly (process will be explained during orientation).

There are no required textbooks for this course.

Students are required to obtain a Supervised Practice Card from the State Bar of Texas to participate in this course. The process for obtaining a Supervised Practice Card will be explained at orientation.

Students are required to complete 50 hours of clinic work per course credit during the semester (i.e. a student enrolled for 2 credits must complete 100 hours of clinic work, a student enrolled for 3 credits must complete 150 hours of clinic work, and a student enrolled for 4 credits must complete 200 hours of clinic work). You are responsible for all work on client matters in addition to class attendance. It is your responsibility to manage your time efficiently.

All clinic work must be completed, closed, or transferred by November 30, 2026, unless otherwise approved by the instructor in advance.

Community Outreach:

The ECDC collaborates with the SURE<sup>SM</sup> Program at the C.T. Bauer College of Business. The SURE<sup>SM</sup> Program is an education program that serves aspiring local entrepreneurs from under-resourced communities in the Houston area. Students will be required to give a short presentation on a business law topic at a SURE<sup>TM</sup> Program event expected to be held on a Monday evening late in the semester. Attendance at the SURE<sup>TM</sup> Program event is mandatory unless a student has a Law Center class conflict. Students will receive additional details at orientation.

Video Journals:

Each student is required to submit four video journals (one to three minutes each) during the semester. Students typically use the camera on their phone or computer to record the video files. Your video journal entries should cover one or more of the following:

- personal goals attained and not attained;
- successes in client representations;
- disappointments;
- reflections about the law and legal process;
- reflections on the development of lawyering skills through the clinical experience;
- reflections on a client meeting or interview experience;
- reflections on transactional law, entrepreneurship, and community development; or
- other thoughts or ideas.

The first journal entry is due on September 8. The second journal entry is due on October 6. The third journal entry is due on November 3. The final journal entry is due on November 30. Journal entries should be uploaded to MyCase (process will be explained at orientation).

Student Conferences:

The instructor will hold mid-semester conferences September 28 through October 2 and exit interviews November 18, 19, 20, 23, and 24. Each student should reserve a one-hour meeting time for each conference using Calendly (process will be explained at orientation).

Students are expected to remember that in this learning environment, we will engage respectfully and with professionalism toward each other. In the words of the Texas Lawyer's Creed, “[a] lawyer should always adhere to the highest principles of professionalism.”

Collaboration with Students and Others:

You are encouraged to cooperate with each other in all aspects of this course. You should feel free to share ideas with each other. You each, of course, must do your own writing, except for those instances when you work with another student as a member of a team. The UHLC Honor Code applies to all aspects of this course. You are responsible for knowing all Honor Code provisions and for complying with the Honor Code. Please inquire if you have any questions regarding how the Honor Code's provisions apply to specific activities or situations related to this course. ### AI Generated Work Product

General. Generative artificial intelligence is a form of machine learning that creates new and original output based on the data it has been trained on or has access to, employing algorithms to generate content in response to prompts. Examples of the technology include what are known as generative “large language models” (“LLM”). Two well-known LLM implementations are ChatGPT and Claude. LLM output can include text, images, music, code, and more. This syllabus policy covers the textual output of generative LLMs (“AI-Generated Work Product”)—which can include computer code or programs and human-language content.

Prohibition. Subject to the exceptions immediately below, your continuing enrollment in this course constitutes your pledge not to generate or to use any AI-Generated Work Product—whether from yourself or others—in relation to any activity in this course.

Exception. The following AI-Generated Work Product uses are exceptions to the preceding prohibition. After receiving express prior approval from the instructor, you may generate and use AI-Generated Work Product for a specific, narrowly-defined project using an LLM approved by the instructor. You may never use or disclose confidential client information when generating AI-Generated Work Product.

If you have an accommodation to record class-related activities, those recordings may not be shared with any other student, whether in this course or not, or with any other person or on any other platform. Classes may be recorded by the instructor. Students may use instructor's recordings for their own studying and notetaking. Instructor's recordings are not authorized to be shared with anyone without the prior written approval of the instructor.
