Office Hours: With respect to office hours, please email so we can arrange to meet you the following Tuesday either before or after class, or schedule virtual office hours.

Materials: Kimberly A. Moore et al. Patent Litigation and Strategy (5th ed. 2018). Additional materials will be provided separately. If you've not already purchased your textbook, a 15% discount is available from www.westacademic.com using this code upon checkout: WAHOUSTON.

I. Overview of Course

- A. Learning Objectives: The Course will focus on how to litigate a patent case in a district court and the relationship of the district court and Federal Circuit in patent litigation. In particular, the course will examine a hypothetical patent case from the pleadings all the way up through Markman and to trial and focuses on the hands-on issues that patent lawyers face in their day to day preparation.
- B. Goals: The goal is to provide the students with an overall process for how a patent case is conducted from prior to filing of the complaint all the way through trial. The course will also require students to draft documents that are typically used in patent litigation.
- C. Instructional Mode (IM): This course is designated as a face-to-face course, which means classes are in person by default, but designated classes may occasionally be held as remote classes to accommodate other scheduling needs or other unforeseen circumstances.

II. Assignments

The assignments for each week are noted below. Additional materials will be identified as needed and will include patents and related files, as well as additional cases.

III. Grading and Evaluation

- A. Drafting of Materials – these assignments will count towards your final grade. These documents will be based on an actual patent dispute.

1. Notice letter and response – 20%
 2. Preparing a complaint and answer – 20%
 3. Drafting claim charts – 25%
 4. Preparing a section for a claim construction brief – 35%
- B. Because your grading will be based on the above assignments, there will not be a final exam.
- C. Assignments must be turned in at the beginning of class that day. Please do not email assignments without prior permission. Emailing assignments is an exception and will require a “good” excuse.
- D. Grading will be based on quality of work-product, thoroughness, attention to detail, and per any further instructions for each assignment.

IV. Attendance Policy

- A. The Law Center has an 80% attendance policy. There will be a sign-in sheet at the beginning of each class. Please sign the roll sheet. Note, however, that you are responsible for keeping a track of your attendance and meeting the 80% attendance policy.
- B. Regular class attendance, participation, and engagement in coursework are important contributors to student success. Absences may be excused as provided in the University of Houston Undergraduate Excused Absence Policy and Graduate Excused Absence Policy for reasons including: medical illness of student or close relative, death of a close family member, legal or government proceeding that a student is obligated to attend, recognized professional and educational activities where the student is presenting, and University-sponsored activity or athletic competition. Under these policies, students with excused absences will be provided with an opportunity to make up any quiz, exam or other work that contributes to the course grade or a satisfactory alternative. Please read the full policy for details regarding reasons for excused absences, the approval process, and extended absences. Additional policies address absences related to military service, religious holy days, pregnancy and related conditions, and disability.
