Distance Learning

Course Description: Animal Law is one of the fastest-growing fields of legal practice and involves issues of constitutional law, administrative law, environmental law, family law, and estates and trusts. In this class, we will address a broad range of topics including the historical status of animals in the law; state legislative efforts and citizen initiatives to strengthen animal protection laws; the application of federal laws, including the Endangered Species Act and the Animal Welfare Act, to captive animals, wildlife, and farm animals; animal-related torts; constitutional standing to sue on behalf of animals; companion animals and the law; and the movement to obtain legal recognition of the rights of animals.

Online Aspects: This course is an asynchronous online course, with prerecorded short lectures related to the assigned reading. Unless otherwise noted, video recordings will be posted by Sunday at 9:00 p.m. and can be viewed at any time during the week. Some weeks there will be more than one video for you to watch. Most videos end with a prompt for you to answer to demonstrate that you've completed the reading and watched the video. (I recommend completing the reading before you watch the videos). The prompt(s) for the week will be reposted on the Canvas site. Failure to respond to the prompt(s) will result in a deduction from your class participation grade. All perspectives will be considered in online discussions and assignments.

Textbook: Animal Law: Welfare, Interests, and Rights, David Favre, Wolters Kluwer Press (3rd ed., 2020). Most of the chapters assigned are for background purposes. Please skim these assigned readings. The material will be supplemented with newspaper and journal articles, law review articles, and cases posted on Canvas. Please read these assigned readings.

Learning Outcomes/Course Goals: Upon the completion of this course, you should:

- Understand the major issues in animal law.
- Understand how animal law intersects with other areas of the law including property, tort, criminal, and family law.
- Be aware of some Texas animal law cases and statutes.
- Be aware of the major federal animal law statutes.
- Understand how to craft a scholarly thesis.
- Gain further instruction on research and writing a scholarly paper.

Assessment: You will be assessed through written reflections, online discussions, and a final paper.

Final Paper

The purpose of the paper is to assess your ability to critically analyze a real-world situation based on the content and skills you learned in this course. Your paper can address any topic related to animal law including:

- Ethical treatment of animals by businesses (medical research facilities, circuses, farmers) and individual pet owners
- Keeping exotic animals as pets
- Regulating animal “ring” fighting
- Rights of those with emotional support or service animals
- Providing for pets after death or divorce
- Breeding or slaughter laws
- Protecting endangered or threatened species
- Cloning animals
- Ag-Gag laws
- Factory farms/CAFOs
- Zoos/circuses/animals as entertainment
- Animals in the military
- Bioengineering
- Sale and distribution of animal parts (ivory tusks, etc.)
- International animal law.

Below is a tentative schedule for assignments. Assignments should be uploaded to CANVAS by the assigned date and time.

A paragraph describing your paper topic: Monday, June 16 at 9:00 a.m. (5% of grade)

List of References: Monday, June 23 at 9:00 a.m. (5% of grade)

Thesis Statement & Outline: Monday, June 30 at 9:00 a.m. (5% of grade)

Draft: Monday, July 21 at 9:00 a.m. (20% of grade)¹

Final paper: Friday, August 15 at 9:00 a.m. (50% of grade)

In accordance with the Law Center handbook, WRS papers must be at least 10,000 words, including footnotes. Specifics on the paper and presentation will be available later in the semester.

¹ I reserve the right to require you to submit a second draft if I feel that the first draft does not display sufficient work and effort on your part.

Class Participation

You are expected to watch all video lectures and participate in all online discussions. Each week, I will post a prompt on Canvas related to that week's readings and video. You will have a week to respond. If you complete the videos and actively participate in the online discussions, you will receive full credit for participation (10 % of grade).

Written Reflection

Over the course of the summer, you will be asked to respond to a prompt in a more detailed and organized manner than the online discussions. Your reflection should demonstrate thoughtful consideration of the prompt. The reflection should be approximately 500 words. The due date is in the syllabus. (5 % of grade)

Curve and Deduction

In accordance with the Law Center handbook, this course will be graded on a 3.0 to 3.4 curve. You must turn in all assignments on time. If you are ill or otherwise unable to turn in a graded assignment on time, please notify me via e-mail prior to the time the assignment is due to seek an accommodation. If your assignment is late, and you have not received a prior extension from me, I reserve the right to reduce your grade on the assignment by one grade level for the first hour (or part of an hour) the assignment is late. After the first hour, I will impose one additional grade reduction for each hour the assignment is late.

CANVAS

I will maintain a course website Canvas. Please register for the course and provide an email address that you check frequently because I will send all class-related e-mails to the e-mail address you register with Canvas. I will post all video lectures on this site.

Student Services

Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) can help students who are having difficulties managing stress, adjusting to the demands of a professional program, or feeling sad and hopeless. You can reach CAPS (www.uh.edu/caps) by calling 713-743-5454 during and after business hours for routine appointments or if you or someone you know is in crisis. No appointment is necessary for the "Let's Talk" program, a drop-in consultation service at convenient locations and hours around campus. <https://www.uh.edu/caps/outreach/lets-talk/index>

The Texas Lawyers' Assistance Program (TLAP) also supports law students who are dealing with stress, anxiety, depression, substance abuse, and other mental health problems. You can reach TLAP at any time at 1-800-343-8527. TLAP's website includes a page with links to sources about mental health that are of interest to law students: <https://www.tlaphelps.org/law-students>.

Honor Code

The UHLC Honor Code applies to all aspects of this course. You are responsible for knowing all Honor Code provisions and for complying with the Honor Code. Please inquire if you have any questions regarding how the Honor Code's provisions apply to specific activities or situations related to this course. Your continuing enrollment in this course is deemed to be a pledge by you under the Honor Code to comply with the Honor Code in relation to this course and to comply with the instructions in the course syllabus.
