

I. SCHEDULE

Month	Day	Item
December	21	Deadline to provide Prof. Vetter an update email about your topic selection process.
January	11	Topic approval submittal deadline; thereafter, continue researching the topic with the goal of completing most research (finding materials) before the first class day; while researching, read Part VIII of Academic Legal Writing (4 th Ed. 2010) (“ALW”), and re-read pages 10-39 of ALW.
January	[19]	Initial class meeting – discuss Writing Requirements; discuss Part I of ALW (pages 10-39 of ALW should have been previously read before the topic submittal deadline)
	[21]	Discuss Parts II through VII of ALW (read pages 40-84)
	[26]	Discuss Parts IX, XI, XV, XVII, XX & XXI of ALW (read the pages of those sections)
	28	Research & Drafting Day (“R&D”); read the pages for these Parts of ALW: X , XII, XIII, XIV, XVI & XVIII
February	2	R&D; read the pages for these Parts of ALW: XIX, XXIII, XXVI & Appendix I
	4	Outline listing main authorities due; R&D
	[9]	Discuss outlines; discuss selected Parts of ALW assigned for reading above on 1/26-1/28 & 1/31-2/2
	11	R&D
	16	R&D
	18*	Submission one due; R&D
	23	R&D
	[25]	Discuss submission one
March	[1]	Discussion looking forward to submission two; additional discussion for Discuss submission one
	3	R&D
	8	R&D
	10*	R&D
	22	Submission two due; R&D
	24	R&D
	[29]	Discuss submission two
	31	R&D
April	5	R&D
	7	Submission three due; R&D
	11	Submission three due
	12	R&D
	[14]	Discuss submission three
	[19]	Presentations (Stone, Klement) (all presentation handouts for all three both presentation days are due by 4/18/2016 on that day by 10:00 p.m. (ish) , emailed to Prof. Vetter, for him to distribute to the class)
	[21]	Presentations (Kuelbs, Leigh)
	[26]	Presentations R&D
	28	R&D
May	3	Submission four due

II. NOTES

Please keep the class period on all R&D days free for the possibility of individual appointments and/or full class meetings. Days marked with brackets indicate times when we will meet for sure. Days marked with an asterisk are days when we will not meet for sure as a full group. Days in bold italics are not class days, but merely deadline days for the schedule. The Law Center attendance policy applies mutatis mutandis for this seminar course: schedule yourself to be in class for all presentation days and other bracketed days; schedule yourself for activity with the paper on R&D days.

Course details are subject to reasonable change with notice. Additional matters may be mandated by the UHLC student handbook. Submissions on due dates should be received to my email inbox by 10:00 p.m. CST. I will reply to the submittal email to let you know I have received it.

A separate document will be provided concerning how to construct, write and submit the paper, and how it will be graded in the context of a seminar course (“Writing Requirements”). Submitted work will be subject to strict assessments for proper attribution and overall compliance with the Honor Code.

The faculty, staff, and administration of the Law Center want to provide every reasonable accommodation to students with disabilities, including learning disabilities. For detailed information, please consult the disabilities handbook. If you have special needs, contact Student Services for arrangements.