ASIL 2022-2023 ACADEMIC PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM BENEFITS GUIDE

Revised August 15, 2022

Thank you for joining the Academic Partnership Program of the American Society of International Law (ASIL). This Partnership combines recognition, participation, promotion, education, and access to ASIL's worldwide community of international law professionals into one convenient package described in detail below.

1. MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS

- All faculty, staff, and students at your university receive a 50% discount on individual ASIL memberships. Discounted student membership is $30. Discounted regular membership is $117.50.
- To sign up, visit <http://www.asil.org/membership> and click “JOIN ASIL”. On the payment, page, you will be able to enter the discount code: ASILACADPART.
- To renew your membership, after logging into your account, click on My Account and under User
- Menu select Membership Renewal Adjustments. Enter the Promo Code ASILACADPART then click Show My Price. If the original invoice still appears, click Remove Item and you should then see the discounted invoice to pay.

2. CAREER & TEACHING RESOURCES

ASIL offers the following career development resources for students, faculty, and staff at Academic Partner schools:

- 90-minute in-person or live webinar (depending on location) for J.D. and/or LL.M students about how to pursue an international law career in today's legal market with ASIL's professional staff.
Contact Taylor Kilpatrick at tkilpatrick@asil.org to schedule your session.
- 90-minute training session for your career services team (in-person or online depending on location), as well as any interested faculty or staff, on advising students interested in pursuing an international law position with ASIL's professional staff.
Contact Taylor Kilpatrick at tkilpatrick@asil.org to schedule your session.
- Students enjoy free access to the ASIL member-only Jobs Board, which includes postings on summer and semester internships, as well as full-time jobs related to international law. Simply create an account (individual ASIL membership not required) using your university email address (e.g. name@school.edu).
You must register with your university email address to receive access!

3. PROMOTIONAL BENEFITS

- Recognition in the quarterly American Journal of International Law and ASIL's Annual Report.
- Recognition on our website asil.org/academicpartner as a 2022-2023 Academic Partner, including a link to your website.
- Recognition as an Academic Partner at the ASIL Annual Meeting and the Midyear Meeting.

4. EVENTS BENEFITS

- Option to have ASIL co-sponsor and publicize your school's events on international legal issues.
 - Note: ASIL does not provide financial support for co-sponsored events. Co-sponsorship includes in-kind hosting and promotion of events. ASIL and Academic Partners have jointly sought outside sponsorship funding for special co-hosted events when appropriate.
- Option to host your international legal event or reception at ASIL's Washington, D.C. (Tillar House) headquarters or the Annual Meeting hotel site.
 - Note: Use of space is based on availability; ASIL's in-house event calendar and available hotel space fill up fast. ASIL co-sponsorship required. A small, discounted rental fee for use of hotel space applies.
