CREDIT HOUR AND COURSE REQUIREMENTS

SELECTING COURSES AND APPROVAL PROCESS

Students are assigned a faculty advisor who approves all course selections to ensure that selections meet program requirements and are consistent with the student's goals. Follow the steps below to select courses and for course approval.

Step 1: Review Class Schedule

Go to <http://www.law.uh.edu/schedule/homepage.html> for the fall 2019 class schedule (available in late March). The schedule includes the following information:

- "Class Area" identifies the specialty area of a course. For example, if the course area is "International Law," that means the course qualifies as meeting the specialty credit requirement for students in the International Law program.
- "Courses by Category" identifies the specialty area of a course. To view all courses in a category (for example, international law), click "search by category."
- Credit Hours. All LL.M. programs are 24 credit hours. "Credit" refers to the amount of time a class meets each week for one semester (August-December and January-May). For example, a three-credit course meets twice a week for a total of three hours each week for one semester. The number of credits for a course is indicated by the second digit of the 4-digit course number. (Course 9399 would be a three-credit course.)
- Meeting Time and Days. M (Monday), T (Tuesday), W (Wednesday), Th (Thursday), F (Friday). Classes are not scheduled on Saturday or Sunday.
- Course Description. Click the course name for additional information such as the professor, required textbook, first day assignment, course outline and course syllabus. Some of the information may not be available until the week before classes.

Step 2: Select Courses

Go to <http://www.law.uh.edu/schedule/homepage.asp>

Carefully read the course description. When selecting courses, consider your program requirements, financial aid, and, of course, work or personal time commitments and financial aid. Courses offered during the fall semester are typically NOT offered during the spring semester. If a tentative schedule for the next semester is posted, check BOTH schedules. This is especially important for students who plan to graduate in two semesters.

The fall semester begins in early August and ends in mid-December. The spring semester begins in early January and ends in mid-May. Classes are offered during the summer in two six-week sessions or one twelve-week session. There are fewer courses offered during the summer than in the fall or spring and there are no seminars offered during the summer.

Step 3: Faculty Advisor Approval

- Students admitted to Energy, Environment and Natural Resources, Health Law, International Law or Tax Law

Contact your faculty advisor to introduce yourself and the program to which you have been admitted. While prerequisites generally do not apply to LL.M. students, providing information on your education and work history will assist your advisor in determining whether or not a particular class is a good “fit.” Based upon the information that you provide (and, in some cases, Law Center policy) your advisor will approve your selections or make alternate suggestions.

- Students admitted to: Intellectual Property & Information Law

For complete details, refer to the letter/email that you received confirming your admission to the program.

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

All programs require the completion of a minimum of 24 credit hours. Within the 24 credits, students must complete program-specific coursework and maintain a 2.5 GPA:

Energy, Environment and Natural Resources	15 credits of EENR coursework
Health Law	18 credits of health law coursework to include Advanced Health Law (5108)
Intellectual Property & Information Law	15 credits of IPIL coursework
International Law	15 credits of international law coursework
Tax	18 credits of tax coursework to include Tax Research (5151) and Tax Ethics (5288) *

*Federal Income Tax (5459) is a prerequisite. If not previously taken, the four-credit course may be taken during the first semester as an LL.M. candidate, but the four credits do not count toward the 24-credit hour program requirement or the 18-credit hour of tax coursework requirement.

WRITING REQUIREMENT

Submission of a thesis is option for all LL.M. programs. This allows students the opportunity to take an additional substantive course.

For students who desire to write a thesis, that option remains open. To do so, students must demonstrate the capability to write a substantial piece of legal scholarship that conforms to the Law Center’s thesis requirements. Students can do this by preparing a satisfactory writing plan and discussing the plan with their faculty advisor to obtain approval.

Students can submit 15, 25, or 40 page papers through Special Research and Writing. The length of the paper is determined by the number of credit hours received.

PROGRAM COMPLETION

Students can complete the program in one academic year (fall/spring). The summer schedule is generally less extensive than the fall or spring schedules and there are no seminars offered during the summer.

Students can register for as few as three credits during the fall and spring semesters but must complete all program requirements within three years of their admission date and be continuously enrolled every fall and spring semester.

DUAL DEGREE OPTION

LL.M. students can earn two LL.M. degrees upon the completion of 36 credit hours. Within the 36 credit hours, the required number of credits for each program must be met. The same course cannot be counted as meeting the requirement for both programs.

Students pursuing a dual degree must apply to and be admitted to each program. Applications can be submitted at any time prior to graduation. The option is not available to graduates. Courses for both programs can be taken concurrently and concentration courses completed prior to admission to the dual degree are counted toward meeting the concentration requirement.

HOUSING

Housing options include residence halls on the University of Houston campus, student apartments adjacent to the campus and apartments located throughout the city.

Campus Housing (<http://www.uh.edu/housing/>)

Students who will not have their own transportation should consider campus housing or student apartments located next to the campus. Houston is a very large, metropolitan city and public transportation is limited. Bus service, for example, may not be available to the UH campus from an off-campus apartment, or, if available, may entail a ride of an hour or more.

- Campus and student housing near the campus fills up VERY quickly – typically by the end of February.
- “Furnished” does NOT include personal items such as bed linens, cooking utensils, sheets, etc.
- The University Lofts are located adjacent to the Law Center. Electricity, gas, water, cable, Wi-Fi, and local phone service are included. Several options are available: efficiencies, one, and two bedrooms. For more information, go to <http://www.uh.edu/housing/housing-options/university-lofts%20/>

Deposits are NOT refunded after May 31. This applies even if the room reservation and deposit are made after this date.

Student apartments are located adjacent to the campus. All provide shuttle transportation to the campus and are within walking distance of the Law Center. It is important, when signing a lease, to confirm their deposit refund policy and their check-in date.

Bayou Oaks	713-747-3834	http://www.uh.edu/housing/housing-options/bayou-oaks/
Cambridge Oaks	713.748.2606	http://www.mystudentvillage.com/us/cambridge-oaks/

The apartments at Cambridge Oaks are not furnished, but they will provide contact information for a furniture rental company. The furniture can be delivered to Cambridge Oaks and, with adequate planning, can be delivered before your arrival. Please note: the form on their website is an actual lease contract and, by submitting it, you are confirming your intention to lease an apartment. The form is NOT a way of showing interest or requesting placement on a wait list. Use the “notes” section at the bottom of the lease if you plan to arrive before July 31, are requesting other special accommodations, or arrive for check-in after 5:00 p.m. You can sign a nine or 12-month lease.

The apartments at Cullen Oaks are furnished and come in a variety of configurations: one, two bedroom, etc. Their online form is an application, only, and completing the form does not automatically ensure an apartment.

Apartment Locator services are free and help students find apartments located throughout the city.

TUITION AND OTHER EXPENSES

Tuition each semester is based on the number of courses (credit hours) for which a student registers and must be paid before the first class day.

Fee bills are generated each semester, with the first payment due approximately two weeks before the semester begins. The fee bill includes tuition University fees, and, if applicable, health insurance, campus housing and a parking permit. Classes will be dropped for non-payment. A tuition calculator will help determine tuition costs for the semester. <http://www.uh.edu/financial/undergraduate/tuition-fees/>

The University has several payment options, <http://www.uh.edu/financial/payment/>. Payment in full – or the first installment – is due approximately two weeks before the beginning of the semester. Courses will be dropped if payment is not received by this date. There is no guarantee that a student’s dropped courses will be available for re-enrollment when payment is made after the original due date.

Students who anticipate making payment by a wire transfer should contact Laura Neal, Law Center Financial Aid Advisor, at lneal@central.uh.edu before the transfer is made. Fee bill questions should also be directed to the Financial Aid Advisor.

BACTERIAL MENINGITIS IMMUNIZATION

Texas State law (SB 1107) mandates that ALL entering students under the age of 22 provide a certificate signed by a health care provider or an official immunization record verifying that a student has been vaccinated against bacterial meningitis. The date of vaccination must be within the last five years and at least ten days before the start of the semester. Students living on campus will be required to wait 10 days after your vaccination date to move in. Students planning to receive the vaccine in the U.S. should plan to arrive no later than two weeks before the first day of classes/orientation. For more information, visit <http://www.uh.edu/academics/courses-enrollment/policies/immunization/index.php>.

DISABILITY ACCOMODATIONS

Consistent with the Law Center's goal of providing opportunities for all students to succeed, the Office of Student Services assists students who have special needs by providing reasonable accommodations. Accommodations are provided on an individual basis as circumstances merit them.

Accommodations may include:

- Reduced course loads,
- Additional time for exams,
- Assignment to classrooms where architectural access is best,
- Obtaining taped texts, and
- Providing interpreters and readers.

We have found that the sooner we know of your needs, the better we can accommodate you. If you think you have a disability that justifies accommodations, please contact Samantha Ary in the Office of Student Services as soon as possible to discuss the documentation necessary to verify the needs and whether or not accommodations can be provided. She can be reached at 713.743.2187 or sary@central.uh.edu DO NOT ASSUME because you identified a disability in your application that we are aware of it. With the large number of J.D. and LL.M. applications, this information cannot always be tracked.
